Virginia Delegation Arrives on Special Car-Moderator to be Elected.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) MOBILE, ALA., May 18.—The forty-fourth General Assembly of the Southern Presbyterian Church will convene at 11 o'clock to-morrow morning in this city and will be called to order by Moderator Rev. A. C. Hopkins, of Charleston, W. Va., who was chaplain of Stonewall Jackson's Brigade during th Civil War,

Probably the most important business to come up will be the status of the northern and southern branches of the church. Several synods have sent in overtures asking a committee be named to confere with a similar committee from the northern branch for the purpose of a complete condition and the obliteration of all dissensions. It is asserted that one or two courses will be pursued by the as-

A committee of the conference will either be appointed or the entire matter will be deferred for a year, It is understood that each proposition has a large

DALLAS, TEXAS, May 18.—Delegates from all over the United States, Mexico and Japan, are gathering here to-night for the seventy-fifth annual General Assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church. He was employed as master of the Salamanca under a contract for three years, and continued in command of the ship until September 12, 1902, when he was discharged at Manila, Philippine Islands. The defense is that he was discharged on account of habitual insobriety, which resulted in careless and negligent management of the ship, and by reason of which she was grounded upon a submerged coral reef in the harbor of Masinice, Philippine Islands. His contract, in case of a discharge, was to have his passage money pald back to the United States and wages up to the date of his arrival. Hay Against Instruction.

Hay Against Instruction.

Representative James 'Hay, of the Seventh Virginia District, does not think the Democratic State Convention should instruct for Judge Parker. Mr. Hay is one of the "original" Parker men, but he does not think it would be wise to have the delegates go to St. Louis bound by instructions.

"The convention did instruct for Bryan in 1600," he said, "but there was no other candidate then. I do not recall that the State has generally instructed, and where there are several good men running for the nomination. I think it would be the part of wisdom to allow the delegates go to the convention absolutely free to do as they think best. I am frank to say, however, that if there should be any likelihood of Mr. Hearst capturing the convention, that is, of his getting enough delegates to prevent the nomination of a candidate not after his own mind, I should prefer to see Virginia instruct her delegation."

after his own mind, I should prefer to see Virginia Instruct her delegation."

Willard a Parkerite.

Lieutenant-Governor Willard, who came up from Richmond yesterday on business, believes the convention should instruct the delegation to vote for Judge Parker. Captain Willard is an ardent supporter of Farker. He believes he will be nominated to the presidency and that he will be elected. Captain Willard is not for Parker on the score of availability alone, but he believes he will make one of the best Presidents the country has had, and that in addition, he is a loyal party man, worthy of the support of every Democratic partisan.

Mr. Hay has for a long time been urging the nomination of Judge Parker. Friends of each who reside in New York have been in communication for several months, and Mr. Hay said long ago that he believed the Virginia delegation would vote for Parker. Representative Swanson was as nearly an "originai" Parker man as was Mr. Hay, and declared his preference early in the fight. All the Virginia delegation, who are Democrats, are supporting the jurist.

SPRINGFIELD. ILL. May 18.—The Republican State convention spent another day in fruitless balloting, and there is not the least indication of a brack in the deadlock anywhere along the line. Lawrence Y. Governor Yates's followers remained firm to-day, and cemented their agreement to stand by the Governor to the end. At a meeting he made a speech intimating that he would be willing to have the gubernatorial proposition referred to a primary election, to be held on the same day throughout the State.

WHY LACK OF AMBITION?

Nine times out of ten, lack of ambition is due to what doctors call poor secretion, by which they mean that the poisonous waste matter is not worked off through the pores of the skin, as nature intended. The way to correct this is to nourish the tissues, nerves and blood with the food elements of Father John's Medicine—all pure nourishment; no alcohol or other weakening stimulants or injurious drugs.
